To our Clients and Friends,

After 40 terrific years, Dr. Pat and I have made the bittersweet decision to retire effective Saturday, November 10, 2018.

Shortly after Dr. Pat's graduation from Veterinary school in 1979, we moved home to Oklahoma to pursue our dream of opening Bartlesville Animal Hospital & Boarding Kennel. Our goal was to provide Bartlesville and the surrounding communities with quality veterinary care and boarding services. Every day for these past 39 years we have strived to fulfill that goal.

It has been our greatest pleasure to know you and your pets throughout all these many years. We have been honored by your confidence in our ability to provide exemplary care for your four-legged family members and we will cherish all the wonderful memories gathered throughout our long tenure. We have celebrated with you the excitement of each new family addition both human and furry, and we have shed sorrowful tears along with you when it was time to let them go. Each day has been a blessing and it is difficult to say goodbye.

Stepping aside is made somewhat easier knowing our legacy will be left in great and loving hands, so much so that you will notice very little change in our absence. Our expert team of Veterinarians, Technicians and Office Management will continue the tradition of welcoming you through the doors with smiles, courtesy and respect; all your pets will be treated as if they are their own.

Allow us a moment to boast. Bartlesville Animal Hospital has on staff three of the finest, most talented Veterinarians who exemplify professional values and strive to provide you with the utmost advancements in quality veterinary care. Dr. Mary Williams, Dr. Merrijean Becker and Dr. Jeff Williams each bring their own specialties and areas of expertise to the practice. More importantly, their professionalism, their integrity and their prolific desire to provide your pet with the utmost care makes them stand out in the veterinary field. Please visit our website at www.bartlesvilleanimalhospital.com to read more about these fine doctors or feel free to drop by and meet them for yourself. We are confident that you will be assured, that even though Dr. Pat and I will no longer be here, these exceptional Doctors and Staff will carry on our desires to provide the very best in compassionate and affordable state-of-the-art medical care and services to our valued clients.

Between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. on Saturday November 10th, 2018 Bartlesville Animal Hospital will be hosting an OPEN HOUSE to send us on our way. The Staff, Dr. Pat and I will be here reminiscing. Please feel free to take a moment and stop by.

Again, retirement is bittersweet, but we know we are leaving you all in great hands.

Forever Gratefully Yours,

Dr. Pat & Terry Grogan
